The 1946 comprehensive plan for the City of Quincy included the idea of a parkway surrounding the city. In 1976, the Schneidman Industrial Park Plan followed the comprehensive plan by preserving large green spaces and drainage easement within the development.

Nearly 50 years later, the Quincy Park District and the City of Quincy began to lay the foundation for the Bill Klingner Trail by acquiring property and easements along Cedar Creek in 1999. The Quincy Greenways & Trails Plan was created to preserve green space, promote biking, and offer walking trails within Quincy's jurisdictional limits.

In 2009, the first segment of the Trail was dedicated between 12th to 18th Streets, and the 5th to 12th segment of the Trail was dedicated in 2018. Subsequent trail segments have been constructed connecting the Bob Bangert Park to 24th Street.

Motivating mountain bikers, hikers, runners, and trail seekers to Gardner Park, Parker Heights and Sunset Park nature trails

Mountain biking is an adventurous and fun activity which involves riding a bicycle off-road.

For this type of activity, you need a mountain bike that is designed to ride on more rugged terrain. While mountain biking is a thrilling sport, it's also a great way to reconnect with nature. This means days of riding out in an unspoiled wilderness refuge, pedaling at our own pace, and nature views as far as the eye can see.

Share your time and talent

If you would like to be part of our building, carpentering, engineer, arbor, gardening, wildlife, environmental, and safety team contact our Nature Trail coordinator, text or call: 217-316-2732

Activities you can help with

- Rake/Blow leaves on the trail
- Remove sticks and tree limbs from main trails
- Pick up trash (bottles, cans, and paper)
- Spray paint small tree stumps on the main trail
- Put safety neon ribbons on trees for user safety

We have different jobs and flexible hours, whatever works for you!

NEW! Nature Trails East

25th Street to 36th Street and Kochs Lane

15 Acres of Nature Trails and Wildlife. The trails run parallel to Cedar Creek, located inside the Bob Mays Park.

Learn more about our existing and future projects, and give us your feedback!

We encourage everyone to come out and spend some time outdoors with your friends and family on the exciting Nature Trails winding through Quincy's most beautiful parks.

Gardner Park Nature Trails Now Offer Mountain Bike Trails

Mountain biking is an adventurous and fun activity which involves riding a bicycle off-road. Mountain bike access to the trails are a brand new addition to the nature trails of Parker Heights and Gardner Park.

While mountain biking is a thrilling sport, it's also a great way to reconnect with nature. This means days of riding in an unspoiled wilderness refuge and pedaling at your own pace offers nature views for as far as the eye can see.
